Republicans and Democrats in Kings County are anxiously waiting for the completion of the official canvass of the Genere, the alleged betrayer of Gelhardt's wife.

A Coroner's jury last night exonerated Gelhardt from all blame, returning a verdict that Gelhardt shot Greene in self-defense.

The police have taken extraordinary interest in this case. Their course has provoked some criticism.

In the usual course of events the case should now go to the Grand Jury, but it is not known what course the prosecuting officers will take in the matter.
